

'Tobyhanna Days' To Reach Supersonic Peak Saturday

Jet Planes To Swoop Over Boroughs

"TOBYHANNA DAYS" will roar to a jet-propelled, supersonic peak Saturday afternoon.

Highlighting the weekend observance will be a double-barrelled "fly over" featuring the performance of a group of F-84F Thunderstreak jet fighters.

The jet planes will swoop over Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg twice. The first fly-over will be seen by local residents at about 1 p.m.; the second at about 3 p.m. on Saturday.

All the planes will be seen Saturday will come from the Pennsylvania Air National Guard 103rd and 117th Squadrons of the 111th Fighter Interceptor Wing stationed at Philadelphia's International Airport.

Thunderstreak
The F-84F Thunderstreak is a supersonic jet that attains a speed faster than that of sound and performs in the stratosphere of the sky. Weighing 13 tons, it develops 3,000 horsepower at full speed.

Today the Thunderstreak is the backbone of the Air Force defense system. Each F-84F is built at a cost of $750,000.

It is considered one of the finest, most maneuverable jets in the world. Thunderstreaks are "potent and feared weapons of defense." This fact has been effectively proved by the 111th Interceptor Wing which constantly emerges as the victor in mock dog-fights conducted almost daily against other Air National Guard and Naval units in the skies over Philadelphia.

In the Saturday fly-overs, the planes will be operating at an altitude of 15,000 feet over The Stroudsburgs. Thunderstreaks, however, operate at maximum efficiency and speed at a height of 40,000 feet.

For purposes of the demonstration during "Tobyhanna Days", the Thunderstreaks will be flown in a tight "diamond" formation, presenting their roaring salute to the celebration here.

Communications

To guide the planes over the two boroughs an elaborate ground-air communications will be set up. The conversations between the ground detail and the pilots and leaders will be amplified over a public address system so that residents may hear the full exchange of orders and comments.

A tower for the radio communications system will be erected on Main St. in Stroudsburg. A large relay will be set up on the roof of the Montgomery Ward building where the major portion of the Depot displays will be installed for the weekend.

The radio communications set up to be used consists of two receivers and one transmitter. One channel in the system is the "guard" channel. This means that, in case of any emergency, the "guard" channel is powerful enough to override and cut-off other communications.

Leading the flight over The Stroudsburgs will be Col. Edgar R. Owen, commander of the 111th Fighter Interceptor Wing, PNG.

Saturday's fly-over is expected to go off without any hitches. Only two things could prevent the demonstration according to Air Force Reserve Col. Harold Boston, coordinator for the event. That would be grounding of craft by technical difficulties or bad weather.

Barring either of these elements, Saturday will be a red-letter "Tobyhanna Day" for area residents. It will be their first chance to see a demonstration of Air Force fighter power from a close-up station.

No Failure Located On Plane

PITTSBURGH, May 7 (AP)—Two safety inspectors for the Civil Aeronautics Board testified today they found no mechanical reasons for the crash of a Trans World Airlines plane that killed 22 persons and injured 14 Easter Sunday.

Kenneth C. Sonner, one of the inspectors, said "there were no mechanical failures noted" in either engine of the two-engine craft that crashed near the Greater Pittsburgh Airport shortly after takeoff.

C. E. Searle, the other investigator, said examinations of the "air frame" (airplane frame) and various associated systems that were not destroyed by fire reveal no evidence of mechanical failure prior to the impact.

Statements
Both men, along with five survivors and several other witnesses, testified at the opening session of a CAB hearing to determine cause of the disaster.

Statements from the pilot, Capt. Raymond F. McQuade of Red Bank, N. J., and copilot, Harlan V. Jespersen of Morristown, N.J., were read by George A. Van Epps, another CAB investigator. Both pilot and copilot are still hospitalized with injuries suffered in the crash.

two boroughs twice—first at 1 p.m. and again at 3 p.m. on Saturday. They'll come from Pennsylvania's Air National Guard base at Philadelphia International Airport.

Proclamation

WHEREAS we enjoy the neighborliness and the fine mutual relations of the 2,500 personnel and their families of Tobyhanna's U. S. Army Signal Corps Depot, and

Whereas we feel we should occasionally recognize these fine relationships and good will.

Therefore the Chamber of Commerce, the U. S. Signal Depot itself and Businessmen's Organizations will co-operate and set aside a two-day affair to make it pleasant and profitable for our 2,500 neighbors to the north and their families to visit the Stroudsburgs and vicinity.

Therefore, we the mayors of Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg extend to the personnel of the Signal Corps Depot at Tobyhanna a cordial welcome to the Stroudsburgs Friday and Saturday and officially proclaim these two days, May 11th and 12th, as "Tobyhanna Days" and we, therefore, urge all citizens of our respective boroughs to join in this welcome.

Given under our hand and seal this 4th day of May, 1956.

Important Primaries To Be Held In Five States Today

By The Associated Press
FIVE STATES — Indiana, Ohio, West Virginia, Florida, and New Mexico—hold primaries Tuesday.

From a national standpoint, the Indiana results will bear the closest watching. The question there is how the Republicans will be on top, as the Democrats. Both sides say usual.

Ohio will elect national convention delegates with 58 votes at the Democratic convention and 56 at the Republican. West Virginia also will pick its convention delegates, with 24 votes at the Democratic convention and 16 at the Republican.

Monday Maryland voters chose their convention delegates, with 24 votes at the Republican convention and 18 at the Democratic.

Maryland states favoring President Eisenhower for Republican renomination and Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee for the Democratic nomination, at least on the first ballot, were opposed by groups pledged to no candidate.

Bit Interest
The big interest in Maryland was the race between former Sen. Millard Tydings and George P. Mahoney for the Democratic nomination to the U. S. Senate.

Sen. John Marshall Butler, who now holds the seat sought by Tydings and Mahoney, was opposed for Republican renomination by two political newcomers. Butler beat Tydings in 1950 after Tydings had served 24 years in the Senate.

Judge Denies Motion By Defense Lawyer

PHILADELPHIA, May 7 (AP)—Judge Eugene V. Alessandrini today denied a defense motion to dismiss charges against Raymond P. Wilson, 33, ex-convict on trial for the slaying of Mrs. Lulu Rossman, 76, wealthy widow.

Before court convened after a four-day recess, attorneys for both sides met with the judge in his chambers, devoting most of the day to their arguments.

Others
Wilson, from Tulsa, Okla., and three other men, who will be tried later on similar charges of murder and robbery, are accused of killing Mrs. Rossman in her midtown hotel apartment here last July and making off with $100,000 of her money.

Indicted with Wilson were Frank J. Ellsworth, 36, of Omaha, Neb., and Tampa, Fla.; Robert H. Thomas, 46, of Miami, and Gus DeMoss, 49, also of Tulsa.

Husband, Wife Team Wins Pulitzer Prize

NEW YORK, May 7 (AP)—A husband and wife team today became the first such writing team ever to win a Pulitzer Prize. They were cited for the poignant Broadway state hit, "The Diary of Anne Frank."

Albert Hackett and Frances Goodrich won the drama award for their stage adaptation of the diary of a 13-year-old Jewish girl who died in a Nazi concentration camp in World War II. It co-stars Joseph Schildkraut and Susan Strasberg.

MacKinlay Kantor's "Andersonville," an historical recital of the horrors of a Confederate prison camp of the Civil War, won the 1956 Pulitzer Prize for fiction.

The annual awards were made by the trustees of Columbia University under the will of the late Joseph Pulitzer, publisher of the old New York World and the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. They have been an annual feature in the fields of music, literature and journalism since 1917.

U. N. Official In Favor Of Quiet Policy

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., May 7 (AP)—Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld favors a cautious and quiet policy by the Security Council to avoid upsetting the cease-fire pledges he got on his Middle East peace mission.

This view was expressed in diplomatic quarters here today as Hammarskjöld gave his personal impressions on the Middle East individually to members of the Security Council.

Hammarskjöld met first with Ambassador Joza Brilej of Yugoslavia, Council president for May. Next he talked with Soviet Ambassador Arkady A. Sobolev, then with U. S. Chief Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., and later with Iranian delegate and an unofficial Council contact for the Arab members of the U. N.

No Talking
No one in the conferences would talk for publication and Hammarskjöld pursued with unusual determination the policy he calls quiet diplomacy. Guards kept newsmen off the top floor area of Hammarskjöld's skyscraper office.

It was said that Hammarskjöld feels nothing should be done here to excite the Middle East. In accord with that view the Security Council likely will not meet until May 20 or later.

Suspect Surrenders

NEW YORK, May 7 (AP)—An unemployed Romanian-born porter, hunted since a fusillade of shots killed one man and wounded five others outside a Romanian church, gave himself up today.

Todurchi Sava, 61, surrendered to Dist. Atty. Frank Hogan and later told reporters he had fired the shots, adding:

"But I wanted to scare. I didn't want to hit."

Princess Ileana of Romania, who was among the worshippers at St. Dumitru's Romanian Orthodox Church Saturday at midnight when the shooting occurred, said she believed she was the intended victim of the sniper's fire.

She expressed the opinion he must have been a "tool" of the Communists. But Sava told reporters today he "did it for America."

Administration Seeks Aid Funds

WASHINGTON, May 7 (AP)—The Eisenhower administration urged Congress today to invest an additional $4,900,000,000 in foreign aid as insurance against "augmented dangers to the free world."

"Military assistance is still needed and defense efforts cannot be relaxed in any degree," John B. Hollister, director of the International Cooperation Administration, told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

"Although today Soviet tactics are placing greater emphasis on economic overtures to the less developed nations, there is no indication that the danger of military aggression is over."

"Communist military build-up in any parts of the world and Communist distribution of modern weapons provide augmented dangers to the free world."

Administration
The administration is asking foreign aid funds for the fiscal year beginning July 1. Its new budget is $2,200,000,000 more than Congress voted last year. Hollister, who runs the foreign aid program, said about three billion dollars worth of the new money would be used for military assistance.

Under questioning by Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala), Hollister said "there always is danger" of a renewal of fighting in Korea.

Without American help, he said, Korea cannot "maintain the field the largest free world army in Asia, facing a strong enemy across a narrow demilitarized strip."

"The enemy may strike in new aggression at any time," Hollister testified.

Around Formosa, too, he said, the Communists may, "for their own reasons, decide at any time to attack."

President Eisenhower sent his semiannual report on the mutual security program to Congress today, disclosing that the United States has shipped more than $12,400,000,000 worth of weapons and other military supplies to its free world allies in the last six years.

Rush Job For Farm Bill
WASHINGTON, May 7 (AP)—Sen. Ellender (D-La) said today his agriculture committee was going to do a rush job on the new farm bill and have it ready for Senate action early next week.

The committee voted to dispense with further public hearings on the House-passed measure and take it up in a closed session Wednesday.

Ellender took the Senate floor to invite his colleagues to have their amendments, and any statements they wished to make, ready at that time.

"I believe we've had enough testimony and that we're ready to take the House bill or delete from it or add to it," Ellender said.

Hearings
"If we get into further extended hearings, in my judgment we will not have any agriculture legislation this session."

New farm legislation has been knocking around in Congress for more than a year. The House passed a bill in 1955, but the Senate didn't act until this year and their combined version was vetoed by President Eisenhower April 16.

The House passed a new bill last week, giving Eisenhower a soil bank program but not the authority he asked to make advance payments this year on crop land to be withdrawn from production next year.

Senate Passes Double Salary Legislation

HARRISBURG, May 7 (AP)—Legislation doubling salaries of members of the Legislature from $3,000 to $6,000 for a two-year period passed the Senate today without a word of debate. The vote was 38-9.

If approved by the House and Gov. Leader, the bill would fix annual compensation of 210 representatives and 50 senators at $6,000 including a $3,000 annual expense allowance now in effect.

The bill, in addition, would double to 10 cents a mile, weekly mileage allowance of members for trips to the state Capitol during sessions of the Assembly.

The measure also carries an increase in pay to top state officials from the governor down and to members of the judiciary, Supreme and Superior Courts and county judges.

House
In the House, the membership adjourned abruptly until tomorrow when a roll call showed 21 Republicans and 19 Democrats absent.

Although more than enough were on hand to carry on business, Rep. Gelfant (D-Phila) voiced the criticism of many House members about chronic absenteeism.

Rep. Readinger, House Democratic floor leader, told newsmen afterward he doubted if the Democratic majority would be able to muster 106 votes for the remainder of the session.

The 106 figure is the minimum Democrats needed to pass any bill which is opposed by Republicans.

Readinger hewed to a May 19 adjournment figure after Senate leaders lifted a short-lived trial balloon for adjournment by the end of this week.

Gelfant's motion to adjourn, opposed by Readinger, passed 87-84 in the first instance in recent years where such a motion was approved in the face of opposition from the leadership.

The action came before the day's agenda was complete but after the House advanced to a position for a final vote tomorrow on a plan to increase teachers' salaries.

In the Senate, the Appropriations Committee sent to the floor a $782,000 appropriation for state-aided homes. The House-passed figure was $750,000.

After acting on the legislative salary bill, the upper branch also revised upward an appropriation of more than 22 million dollars for state-aided hospitals and pushed ahead for a final vote tomorrow.

The salary boost bill was estimated to cost the state from 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 million dollars a year.

The increase to judges would become effective immediately but that of the other raises would be delayed under a provision of the constitution prohibiting changes in salary during the same term of office.

Action
The House has yet to act on the measure, which reached the Senate in a House-Senate Conference Committee report adjusting differences between the two branches. The original bill would have increased salaries of legislators to $9,000 for two years.

Should the pay raise be approved by the House, it still would have an uncertain future at the hands of Gov. Leader. He said recently that such salary increase bills, including one pending for school teachers, "would face a rather difficult future unless more revenue becomes available."

Excursion Train Leaves Tracks

WAUKESHA, Wis., May 7 (AP)—An excursion train carrying 900 school pupils to a baseball game in Milwaukee was derailed when hit by a loaded gravel truck today, injuring more than 100 persons, mostly children.

There was no loss of life as 10 coaches left the rails but one unidentified child whose skull was fractured remained on the critical list. The truck driver, Gordon Hinkley, 35, of Wales, Wis., suffered fractures of both legs but was reported in "fair" condition.

New Mark $6,178 Higher Than Last Year

MONROE COUNTY Community Chest approved agency allocations and Chest expenses totaling $74,757 last night at a meeting in Wyckoff's Tea Room.

The 1956-57 amount will be $6,178 higher than the budget for the current year. But it is almost identical to the total amount pledged in the successful 1955-56 campaign.

Following its usual custom, the Chest president, M. S. Baldwin, introduced chairmen of the budget and social planning committees who reported on committee action.

Mrs. Claude Leister headed social planning. S. Clair Smith was chairman of the budget committee.

Following are the amounts recommended by each committee:

YMCA—Allocated $13,000 by the board. The agency had asked for $15,865. The social planning committee recommended $15,000. The budget committee knocked this down to $11,000. A great deal of discussion was centered around this agency. During discussion, J. Albert Groner, a director, acknowledged that the agency had included in its budget request for allocation from the Chest a $2,000 amount which he said was to have been used to stockpile funds for emergency repair when and if needed. With this amount subtracted from the agency request—as Groner said he agreed it should have been—the total would have been $13,865. This meant that the Chest board allocated only $865 less than the actual allowable amount asked by the YMCA. During the current fiscal year the Y's allocation was $10,500.

Salvation Army—Allocated $11,000 by the board. Same amount was recommended by the budget committee but the social planning committee had asked only $10,000 for the agency. The agency itself requested $13,578 for the coming year. Budget committee hearings showed that a portion of this money would have been used for a partial construction at the Citadel—annual expense which belongs in capital outlay, the committee noted. For this reason the request was not granted in full, committee members said. The total is $1,500 over the 1955-56 allocation.

Children's Aid Society of Monroe County—Allocated $10,750 by the board. The agency requested $12,312. Social planning recommended $10,750 and the budget committee recommended $10,750. The new total is an increase of $750 over the $10,000 allocated for the 1955-56 fiscal year.

General Hospital of Monroe County—An allocation of $10,500 was set by the board. This was the amount recommended by both committees. It is also the same amount asked and received by the hospital during each recent campaign.

Boy Scouts—The board set an allocation of $6,500 in line with both committee recommendations. The total is $500 higher than the allocation for the current year, but $900 less than the amount asked by the agency.

Visiting Nurse Association—Allocated $6,000 by the board on recommendation of the budget committee. Social planning had recommended only $5,500. The additional $500 was recommended, Smith said, because the agency had noted the need for additional service of a nurse more than part-time. The agency asked for $6,219 for the new year. This year it is getting $5,500.

Girl Scouts—An allocation of $3,480 in line with both committee recommendations, and the request of the agency. Mrs. Leister noted that Girl Scout services have more than doubled in Monroe County in the past year.

Child Guidance Center of Monroe and Northampton Counties—An allocation of $2,000 was approved by the board. This was $500 less than the agency request and the social planning recommendation but exactly the amount of the budget committee's recommendation.

Crippled Children and Adults Association—$500 allocation approved by the board. The same amount as requested by the agency; same amount paid to the agency this year despite a budgeted allocation of $100, due to error last year.

Two "outside" agencies which serve Monroe County received a total of $1,000. They are: Pennsylvania Citizens Association—$100 allocated by board and recommended by committees; USO—$900 allocated as recommended.

Chest expenses allocated were: Administrative—$5,113 and campaign—$3,264, both slightly higher than this year's allocations; contingent fund, again $1,000.

B'nai B'rith Celebrating 113th Birthday

By ARTHUR EDSON
AP Newsfeatures Writer
WASHINGTON, May 7 (AP) — In 1843 a dozen German Jews met in Sinsheimer's cafe in New York City to set up a new society. Twenty-two thousand Jews were in this country then, and their rivalry was intense. A German Jew wouldn't speak to a Polish Jew, a Dutch Jew wouldn't speak to a German Jew, and a Spanish Jew, who felt he was the aristocrat of Jewry, wouldn't speak to anybody. The 12 men in Sinsheimer's took a dim view of this hostility. They set out on "the mission of unifying Israelites in the work of promoting their highest interests to those of humanity."

And so B'nai B'rith was born. Today, 113 years later, 1,000 delegates here to attend their convention can point proudly to this fact.

The Masons and Odd Fellows are the only national organizations that are older. B'nai B'rith has been in existence longer than the Elks, the Rotary Club, Knights of Columbus or the Daughters of the American Revolution.

It has spread to 30 countries—there's even an active lodge in Dublin—and its membership has grown to 400,000.

B'nai B'rith—"sons of the covenant"—was helping in charity drives before the Red Cross was organized. It raised money for flood victims in Baltimore, for those burned out in the Chicago fire, for yellow fever sufferers in the South.

John Foster Dulles drops around tomorrow to speak to B'nai B'rith, and it won't be the first time it's had words, usually friendly, with a secretary of state.

For the members of B'nai B'rith naturally have worried about anti-Jewish movements in other lands. As long ago as 1851 B'nai B'rith complained to the secretary of state, Daniel Webster, about anti-Jewish restrictions in Switzerland.

Webster agreed the restrictions might jeopardize U. S. Jews traveling abroad. And B'nai B'rith also found a friend in another prominent politician, Henry Clay, who repeatedly denounced the restrictions in Senate speeches.

In its long years B'nai B'rith has come up with many distinguished members — Jonas Salk, the polio vaccine man, is one of the more recent. Near the top of the list it would place Simon Wolf, a friend of every president from James Buchanan to Woodrow Wilson.

Wolf kept an anxious eye on programs everywhere.

Great Feat

Probably his greatest feat came in 1870, during the persecution of the Jews in Romania. He got President U. S. Grant to appoint Benjamin Franklin Picotot, a former B'nai B'rith president, as consul there. Picotot succeeded in ending the pogroms.

Wolf deserves at least a footnote to history for another reason. He had acted with John Wilkes Booth in amateur theatricals. After Lincoln was shot, Wolf holed up in his room, for an unusual but practical reason.

He looked so much like Booth he was afraid he'd be lynched before he could explain.

Economy In Boom Status

WASHINGTON, May 7 (AP)—Two of President Eisenhower's Cabinet officers today reported the nation's economy is continuing to boom, and questioned the need of applying anti-inflationary brakes.

Secretary of Commerce Weeks, reporting a new record high for personal income and a continuing high rate for the gross national product, said he still has a "cheery optimism" about the economic outlook despite soft spots in automobiles and home building.

Increase

Weeks said employment figures due to come out soon will show a substantial increase in the number of workers with jobs. The March employment figure, issued last month, was 63,078,000.

Secretary of Labor Mitchell questioned the need of last month's credit-tightening action by the Federal Reserve Board, saying: "I don't happen to believe there is an inflationary trend."

Weeks put it this way: "In view of the tight money situation today the raise in the Federal Reserve discount rate for lending might prove to be a handicap to business expansion and the economy, but in the long run I have confidence that the economy will still move forward."

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia, May 7 (AP)—Cambodians held street demonstrations today and decked out the National Assembly with banners in support of Prince Sihanouk's policy of neutrality.

The demonstrators made clear they approved a recent statement by the Prince, who has resigned as Premier, charging that Philippine officials tried to pressure him into leading Cambodia into the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization.

FORT CARSON, Colo., May 7 (AP)—Pvt. William E. Metzger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Metzger, 604 Fulmer Ave., Stroudsburg, Pa., is with the Eighth Infantry Division receiving basic combat training at Fort Carson, Colo.

Metzger is training with Company K of the division's 28th Regiment. The Eighth is preparing for its move to Europe next fall as part of Operation Gyroscope.

Last Month

A former employee of Patterson Kelley Company, East Stroudsburg, Metzger entered the Army last month.

The 21-year-old soldier was graduated from Stroudsburg High School in 1953.

Allies Expect Demonstration

BONN, Germany, May 7 (AP)—The Western Allies are expecting demonstrations by disgruntled German owners of military occupied houses tomorrow — the first anniversary of West German sovereignty.

The Allies are holding nearly 7,000 German homes requisitioned under occupation law for their military families.

Owners

Many property owners, some of whose houses have been requisitioned for 10 years, are resentful.

A high Allied official said that "some hotheads" might take matters into their own hands and try to evict the soldier tenants. Demonstrations by groups of homeowners are expected in some areas, he added.

Military commands have told servicemen living in requisitioned houses that their legal position is secure. Heads of families have been told to refer any eviction notices they receive to their superior officers.

Trainer, Animals Die In Fire

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 7 (AP)—An animal trainer and 25 animals died today when fire swept a pet shop.

The trainer, Magnus F. Cook, was asphyxiated while he slept.

Victims

The animal victims at Fortune's Jungle Gardens pet shop included a chimp, a baboon, an ocelot, two honey bears, a German shepherd dog and 19 monkeys.

Owner Harold Fortune estimated the animal loss at $2,000 and damage to the brick building at about $12,500.

Respect

A moment of respect was observed in memory of the late Albert McCabe of Easton, a past state president.

Special entertainment was provided for the ladies while the business session was in progress. They were also present with souvenirs. Luncheon was served for all in attendance.

Stroudsburg area was represented by District Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler John R. Hauser, who is also a member of the district executive board: Clarence Rutt, Elmer Shale, Fred H. Rhodes, exalted ruler of the local lodge, Armen Gargone, and Carl S. Shamp.

Californians Ask To Roll Dice In Court

MONTE CARLO, May 7 (AP)—Three Californians charged with slipping loaded dice into a game at Monte Carlo's casino today asked the judge to let them stage a little game in court.

Lawyers for the three men asked that they set up a dice layout in the courtroom of the investigating judge so he could see for himself that it was impossible to win "important sums" with loaded dice.

First Request

The lawyers first wanted to hold the game in the old casino itself but the publicity-shy casino turned this down. Then the lawyers asked that table, dice and stick-men be brought into court.

The judge said he would think it over. He is conducting, under French law, the pre-trial investigation of the three men, all from the Los Angeles area: Philip Aggie, 39; Jason Lee Jr., 60 and Ralph Shaker, 40.

District Attorney Receives Letter On 1955 Board Note

Jones, Taylor Attempt To Clear Picture

TWO LETTERS concerning a $15,000 note taken out by the former Monroe County Board of Commissioners yesterday were turned over to District Attorney Detlef A. Hansen for his inspection.

Hansen received the letters from the present county board. The district attorney withheld comment, however, pending a study of the correspondence.

In their 1956 report, the county auditors referred to the note which, they said, was executed in June, 1955 to secure a loan.

"This loan was granted and promptly repaid although the cancelled and receipted note apparently is not on file in the commissioners' office," the auditors disclosed.

Solicitor

Atty. J. Joseph McCluskey, solicitor for the auditors, turned over to the present commissioners a letter from Harry Taylor, chief clerk of the former board, and another from R. E. Jones, executive vice-president of the East Stroudsburg National Bank. Both letters were turned over to the district attorney.

Mr. Jones disclosed that a $15,000 note of the Board of Commissioners "was entered on our books on June 20, 1955 and the same note was paid off on June 21, 1955 with no interest charge."

"The note of course, was stamped paid and returned," the bank officer said. "As to the whereabouts of the note or to whom we surrendered the note upon payment, we are unable to state, as our records do not disclose this."

Meanwhile, Taylor's notarized letter to McCluskey offered to explain the matter "to the best of my recollection."

Taylor agreed that the note was made by the county to the East Stroudsburg National Bank, sometime in June, 1955, although he was not certain of the exact date. "After the note was signed," Taylor said, "I gave it to the county treasurer. The next day the county treasurer returned the note to me. It was my understanding that the bank loan transaction had been called off because the county didn't need the money from the bank, it having obtained sufficient money from another source."

"Since we had no use for the note," Taylor continued, "and I felt that it would be dangerous to have a signed note around, I destroyed it on the same day by tearing up the note and putting the pieces in the waste basket, the same as I would have done with any note of my own."

Offer

Taylor offered to meet at any time with the county auditors to answer any questions which they might wish to ask concerning county business. Taylor offered to answer such inquiries under oath, should the auditors so desire.

"No subpoena is necessary," Taylor added. "Just notify me and I will be there."

In their report, the auditors also scored the former commissioners for employing "certain procedures and methods of bookkeeping and financing . . . during 1955 which are not consistent with generally recognized principles."

Commissioners 'Regret' Leader Move

MONROE COUNTY commissioners yesterday expressed "regret" that Gov. George M. Leader refused to confer with them on the reconstruction of flood-damaged roads and bridges.

Board Chairman John R. Lesoine said the county board called the Governor's office in Harrisburg requesting that he meet with the commissioners sometime this week. However, Lesoine said county officials received word from Harrisburg yesterday that Leader referred them to the Highway Department on the matter.

The commissioners are especially anxious to establish a "safe by-pass" for northbound traffic on Route 611 at Bartonville, and a second for southbound traffic, Lesoine said.

They are also interested in getting work started on the reconstruction of damaged roads and bridges, the board chairman stressed. The Highway Department has not explained the delay.

Lesoine contended that requests for the Route 611 by-pass were made to the Highway Department earlier, and that the Allentown District office "didn't even have the courtesy" of notifying the commissioners that it was denying the request. The county board yesterday directed its chief clerk, H. Ray Saunders, to write to Gov. Leader expressing "regret" at his attitude in the matter.

Saunders noted that the commission has in the past contacted the secretary of highways and other highway officials "and found they were unwilling to be cooperative in the solution of the problems facing the county."

"It was for that reason that the commissioners desired a meeting with you," Saunders wrote.

"The situation existing in the county at the present time is a very serious one," he continued. "There has been loss of life and property damage amounting to thousands of dollars, and up to the present time, we have no doubt that more lives will be lost and more property damage sustained if the present conditions are not corrected immediately. The commissioners suggest and would welcome a personal investigation by you of the existing conditions, believing if you do so, you will take the proper steps to remedy the conditions," Saunders added.

Commissioners Seek Short Term Loan

NEGOTIATIONS for a $20,000 short term loan were authorized yesterday by the Monroe County commissioners, so they could meet current operating expenses.

However, Board Chairman John R. Lesoine indicated that the commissioners have not yet decided from which bank the money will be borrowed.

"We will have no large receipts between now and when general taxes come in," said Lesoine. "And it is estimated the county will have to borrow a total of $90,000 between now and September."

Earlier, the commissioners approved a $15,000 loan for similar purposes, meaning that $35,000 in loans have been okayed to date.

Lesoine said the board was informed by the county treasurer that general operating expenses amount to $15,000 to $18,000 a month.

All notes are to be paid back upon receipt of the 1956 taxes, Lesoine added.

Bosman Named To Mathematics Council

DISTINGUISHED academic honors were brought to Monroe County during the past week by Edward E. Bosman, of 102 Smith St., East Stroudsburg, professor of mathematics at Barrett High School. Bosman attended the fifth annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Council of Teachers of Mathematics at the Cathedral of Learning, Pittsburgh.

Bosman reporting for the committee of finances rendered the auditors' report for the treasury of the organization. At the annual election of officers the local man was given the honor of being chosen vice president of the council. He was also appointed chairman of a committee to pass on the holding of another state-wide tournament of mathematics under sponsorship of the council.

Bosman explained that publicity is a vital pre-requisite for such a competition and that, in this respect especially, he will need the fullest possible support from local leaders in the science of mathematics in all the counties of the state.

Another problem, vital to the success of the tournament, is the having of students interested in mathematics, take part in tests. Bosman said the staging of such a tournament, in the very nature of things, deserves the cooperation of all teachers of mathematics in the counties.

Vital Problem
An extremely vital problem, he told the council, will be the financing of the tournament on a standard worthy of its potentialities.

The Barrett teacher presided at the sectional meeting on mathematical execution through television. His theme was "Uses of Television For Elementary Grades, High School and College."

Following the sectional meetings, the educators were entertained at luncheon held at the Faculty Club of the University of Pittsburgh by invitation of Dr. John Knipp, teacher of mathematics in the advanced school at the university.

Election followed the luncheon. Dr. William I. Miller invited the council to hold the annual meeting of 1957 at Bucknell University in the final week of April and this invitation was accepted.

One of the outstanding addresses of the convention was delivered by B. H. Boehm, superintendent of the

NOW is the time to re-examine URANIUM

Today Uranium is again making the headlines, this time as a practical, peacetime source of energy. It is rapidly becoming big business as the government releases more and more to private industry and as companies merge and increase production.

Now is the time to re-examine the profit possibilities of a number of uranium-producing corporations who gave geared their operations to the limitless commercial potential that exists for atomic energy.

FOR THE BENEFIT OF OUR CLIENTS we have prepared a list of selected uranium producers. Stock of each of these corporations, in our opinion, offer opportunity for substantial gains, if purchased now!

Eight Persons Enter Pleas Of Guilty

EIGHT PERSONS entered guilty pleas in Monroe County Court yesterday to charges of operating motor vehicles while under the influence of liquor.

Frank VanWhy, of Ananook, was placed on two years probation and fined $500 and costs after he pleaded guilty before President Judge Fred W. Davis on this charge. The defendant was ordered to pay the fine in weekly installments of not less than $10.

Albert Ludwig, of East Stroudsburg, also pleaded guilty to a drunken driving charge and was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to six to 12 months in the Monroe County Jail, the time to be computed from March 1, 1956.

Harold F. Pugh, of Canadensis, was placed on a year's probation and fined $300 after he pleaded guilty to a similar charge before Judge Davis.

Bethlehem
Ray Schall, of Bethlehem, RD, entered guilty pleas to driving under the influence and failure to reveal his identity. He was fined $300 and costs on the first charge, and $100 on the second. He also was placed on a year's probation.

Fined $300 and costs on drunken driving complaints were Amandus Dunlap, Gladys M. Kipp, Everett Hunt, all of East Stroudsburg, and Edward A. Perry.

Robert A. Serfass, of Pottstown, pleaded guilty to a charge of failing to stop at an accident. He was fined $200 and costs and sentenced to two months in the county jail.

Emerson Warner, of Stroudsburg, was placed on six months probation and fined $100 and costs for driving while his license was under suspension. Vincent P. Turnabe, of Scranton, was fined $10 on a speeding complaint.

In non-support actions, Jack Cardwell, Stroudsburg, was ordered to pay $16 a week for the support of two children. William M. Zeiner, Philadelphia, was ordered to pay $10 weekly for one child, and Franklin Dippie, East Stroudsburg, was ordered to pay $20 a week for the support of his wife and child.

Flexible Supports Can't Undo Damage Done In 10 Years Of Rigid Price Props

So much confusion has been dumped into the farm debate, we sometimes despair of ever getting the record straight. But let's have a small try at one angle:

The 90 per cent of parity subsidy boys—who go on the theory that the cure for rat poisoning is more rat poison—say the huge crop surpluses the Government now has in storage are not the fault of high price supports. And to prove it, they say most of the surpluses were built up under the Eisenhower Administration.

Now let's see what whole truth can do to a half truth:

When Ike took office, the Government had about $2,500,000,000 invested in surplus farm products. Now the total is about nine billion dollars.

How come?

In 1952, the Democratic Secretary of Agriculture, Charles F. Brannan, took off all acreage controls on the 1953 crop. Without restraints, and under the stimulus of high price supports, the surpluses zoomed. Cotton in the Government's hands, for instance, shot up from two billion bales to seven billion bales in this single year.

In his campaign in 1952, Ike promised—as the Democrats keep reminding him—to back the 90 per cent price support law then on the books. But he said he would do this "through 1954"—which he did. He didn't say forever.

So it is true that the bulk of the present crop surpluses were accumulated in the Eisenhower Administration. But they were accumulated under 90 per cent of parity subsidies, under a law passed before Ike got into office and largely stimulated by the no-restraint year set up by Secretary Brannan.

By the time the Eisenhower Administration got its flexible price-support program into effect—on 1955 crops—the Government had on its hands more than eight billion dollars in surplus crops. So there has been a relatively small increase in the surpluses under flexible supports.

Farm prices started declining in 1951, two years before Ike took office. The main depressive influence has been the hoard of surpluses in Government warehouses—90 per cent of it acquired under the 90 per cent of parity system.

Under the Eisenhower-Benson flexible price-support plan, the decline in farm prices has slowed down, even reversed some lately.

The point is that the damage built up over 10 years of high peacetime price props can't be undone in a few months of the flexible system. Not even by all the glittering campaign promises now being offered the farmers.

Effectiveness Of Salk Vaccine Proved; Parents, Children Have Cause To Rejoice

A great many Monroe County parents are breathing a whole lot easier this May than they were a year ago. The reason: their children have been inoculated against poliomyelitis within the last 12 months and the chances of that horrible disease killing or crippling them for life have been reduced to practically nil.

After a one-year test in scattered areas throughout the United States, the anti-polio vaccine was given a more general trial starting last Spring.

Parental anxiety, as a new polio season approached, a bureaucratic foulup, an over-zealous bid for publicity, and other factors combined then to throw a cloud over this extraordinary medical achievement. Some reputable authorities even questioned the validity of the vaccine, while others overrated its power.

Now the effectiveness of the vaccine has been proved. It's distribution has become more systematic and last year's hysteria has subsided.

So Dr. Jonas E. Salk, the youthful Pittsburgh, Pa., scientist who never let publicity, honors or controversy deter him from his purpose, is able to disclose that three shots of the vaccine may last a lifetime—and he said "may not" will. Only time will tell, but all indications support this conclusion.

What we are getting at is the marvels that can be developed by science properly dedicated and financed. Only a short time ago polio was regarded with such dread that public apprehension bordered on panic.

Polio isn't stamped out, but the Salk vaccine has raised the odds against it to overwhelming proportions. The decisive battles have been won. Parents and children in Monroe County and elsewhere can rejoice, knowing full well their chances of survival have increased.

With suitable financial support, and the adequate supply of scientists we are seeking to acquire, similar battles may be won over other enemies of human health and life.

George Sokolsky Says...

Ceylon Prefers To Sell Tea To Russians Than Accept American Gold Dollar Credits

From Peking comes the following item:

... If the United States withdrew its offer of aid, that was the price Ceylon would cheerfully pay to maintain her independence, stated the Ceylon 'Morning Times' on April 11.

"After all, we have survived without American aid all these years, and our self respect cannot be bought with dollars," it added. The paper stated: "If any country in the world offers Ceylon aid without strings she will gladly and gratefully accept as Nehru's India has done, but she cannot be bought, sold, or bartered." The paper asserted that 'Ceylon is flattered by the world's interest in her freedom and safety but she will decide for herself along which path her security lies and will act accordingly without bowing to bribes or threats.'"

In contrast, the Mongolian Home Service broadcast in Russian: "In response to the ever-increasing assistance of the Soviet Union, the workers of the Mongolian People's Republic express their sincere and heartfelt gratitude to the fraternal Soviet People and its vanguard, the Communist Party of the Soviet Union and the Soviet Government, and are full of determination to achieve even greater successes in Socialist construction under the leadership of their beloved People's Revolutionary Party."

More and more countries are responding to American aid as the Ceylon newspaper does, namely, that in some manner when a country accepts American aid it is doing the United States some kind of a favor. This is due to several reasons: faulty salesmanship by our almoners, Paul G. Hoffman and Harold Stassen; Soviet propaganda to the effect that the United States had to give aid in order to maintain full employment; and finally our constant tendency to appease nations whose tone and manner are impudent. Impudence has become a weapon of diplomacy aimed at the United States; it is never employed against Soviet Russia.

It would be interesting to know how much Soviet Russia has given outright. It is probably very little because whenever the nature of a transaction is available, a barrier of some kind is indicated, or a loan agreement is announced. With capitalistic wisdom, Russia gives little or nothing away without some kind of compensation. But the United States has based its give-away programs upon a doctrine of sheer charity; it has been a good-will offering, a sharing. As that sort of action is not understood by most countries of this world, it has been regarded with suspicion, and the suspicion has increased as the amounts of gold dollars have continued to pour into governments.

Why should not strings be attached to any aid we give any country? Ceylon is an excellent example. This country had a right to assume that as long as Sir John Kotelawala was the Prime Minister, the government of Ceylon would not be antagonistic to the United States. Such an assumption is not possible today because the new government is at best neutral. It is a government which is under the influence of Nehru of India.

Because of this change in Administration in Ceylon, it is likely that the economic relations between that country and Soviet Russia will come closer. Ceylon is a great tea-growing country and Soviet Russia and its satellites are great tea-consuming countries. There is room therefore for important barter arrangements between Ceylon and Soviet Russia.

There are no available reports on what has happened to China's important tea trade. By 1927, the Central China tea trade, centered in Hankow, had lost its economic significance. Prior to the Bolshevik Revolution of 1917, Russia was the principal importer of tea from Hankow, much of it being carried in caravans across Mongolia to the Trans-Siberian Railroad. The British preferred Indian tea which includes Ceylon tea. The Japanese used Fukien and Formosan teas and exported quantities to all parts of the world, a large market developing in North Africa. The United States took to coffee, which is another story.

If the tea groves in China have not been properly cared for during the past years, it is understandable that Ceylon would want to take advantage of both the Russian and Chinese markets and could make a good trade with these countries. Tea, like rice, can be politics in Asia. And the movement of the tea crop is more valuable both economically and politically than getting gold dollar credits for nothing.

Good Jobs Await Girl Graduates This Year

Heaven and the Department of Labor have been protecting the working girl—all 20 million of them. And the Women's Division of the latter organization keeps tabs on what the girls do for a living.

Nearly one-third of the 63 million breadwinners in this country are women, who have entered 446 occupations. Nineteen Fifty Five sweet girl college graduates earned an average of $3,141 their first year out of school. The highest reported wage was $4,900 for lady chemists, with teaching salaries trailing at $3,197.

"This working picture of 1956," said Alice K. Leopold, women's director of the Labor Department, "completely negates the cartoon and illustrations so familiar in 1900. Then, a working girl in a garment factory might toil as long as 12 hours a day and earn as little as $5 a week. Her standard of living was poor. Her chances of advancement equally so."

"Less than a century ago women's range of occupations was relatively limited, and the great majority were domestic servants, farm workers or seamstresses."

So the young ladies filing out application blanks next month for their first jobs won't be asked about sewing fine seams. Nor will they apply as dairy maids or scullery assistants. Opposite number to these drab tasks are right up there with the big league professions—medicine, chemistry, theology, law, accounting and engineering.

Within 10 years (1940-1950) women holding top positions increased their numbers by nearly 300,000—and in the latter year made up 13 per cent of the total managerial group.

But although Heaven may be satisfied with this peak employment among the ladies, Mrs. Leopold is not. Speaking to a midwestern Women's Chamber of Commerce recently, she urged successful career girls to keep that forward look.

"Be alert to outstanding talent and urge that women receive appropriate training and opportunities for advancement," she said. "Use your influence to help young college and high school graduates find the right job."

Robert S. Allen Reports

Government Cracking Down On Nickel Black Marketing

Washington, May 7.—The Justice and Commerce Departments are cracking down on black-marketing in nickel, the essential military metal that has been in short supply for months.

A number of "criminal prosecutions" are in preparation. That's what Commerce Secretary Sinclair Weeks has told House Democratic Leader John McCormack, Mass., who has obtained extensive information on this explosive matter for the purpose of conducting a public investigation.

McCormack still intends to go through with that plan. That's what he has replied to Weeks. McCormack considers a congressional probe necessary on the basis of numerous letters and reports he has received from businessmen charging mishandling of the government's vital defense stockpile of nickel, and black-marketing and profiteering in the metal. Included in this file is a letter from Secretary Weeks to a leading Pittsburgh manufacturer admitting the existence of widespread black-marketing.

Following are highlights of this significant backstage correspondence between Weeks and McCormack. From Weeks: "I shall endeavor to enumerate the actions of the executive branch in taking to meet the problems arising out of an insufficient national supply of nickel to meet all our domestic requirements. . . . In reference to the so-called black-market in nickel . . . cases of violation have been investigated and suitable action taken, in some instances by reference to the Justice Department for criminal prosecution."

McCormack's answer: "It occurs to me that this subject is so complex yet vital to so many industries and individuals that a thorough airing of the entire matter by an appropriate committee would be in the public interest."

Note: On April 26 this column reported: "Election politics is a major factor behind this proposed ban on nickel. . . . A cabinet member was allegedly instrumental in getting a considerable quantity of this defense nickel for a corporation with which he had been connected. . . . The ouster of this cabinet member would be an even greater sensation than the resignation of Air Force Secretary Harold Talbot on 'conflict-of-interest' charges."

The Unannounced Details — President Eisenhower's $200,000,000 economic aid program for Southeast Asia, including "neutralist" countries dealing with the Reds, is in deep trouble. The House Foreign Affairs Committee got a private look at the undisclosed details of this plan, and Republicans and Democrats evinced marked indications that they don't like it. Representative Walter Judd (R., Minn.), strong supporter of the President's foreign policies, caustically criticized this foreign aid plan.

"This is supposed to win the confidence of these people," Judd told Deputy Foreign Aid Director D. A. Fitzgerald, "but we're not doing it. In some places we have created irritation and even resentment, by the incompetence and arrogance with which our people deal with their problems."

Following is what Fitzgerald disclosed to the committee is contemplated under this $200,000,000 Southeast Asia phase of the $4,900,000,000 foreign aid budget. Establish an airline, with planes and facilities, for Afghanistan, which has arms and trade ties with Russia.

Provide technical training and other aid for Ceylon, which has just elected a leftist government that is proposing to exist British forces and business.

Provide strongly neutralist Indonesia with technical aid to improve its mining and industry.

Build modern telecommunications and transportation systems in Thailand, South Vietnam and Laos, all of them pro-Western and U.S. allies.

Set up a nuclear research and training center in the Philippines, to be used by all of Southeast Asia.

Deputy Director Fitzgerald was summoned by the Committee to explain the $200,000,000 Southeast Asia program. President Eisenhower submitted no details on that when he presented his foreign aid budget. Committee-men lost no time in making it clear this plan faces a doubtful future.

"Your memorandum lists communications projects for Thailand, Vietnam and Laos," said Rep. James Richards (D., S.C.), chairman. "Is that something they want and need, or are you hunting for something to do there?"

"These are highly desirable and important projects," contended Fitzgerald. "We have survey teams there examining existing communications facilities. Our plan is to build a modern system in these countries and thus bring them closely together. They are as remote from a standpoint of communications as if they were thousands of miles apart."

In Czechoslovakia, a stenographer set what is claimed to be a world record when she typed 5573 words per minute. When that girl hammers out a missive it becomes a missile.

Only 16 per cent of Japan's 142,000 square miles is considered suitable for cultivation.

More than 75 per cent of the people owning stock in the United States earn less than $10,000 a year after taxes.

'Brigadoon' Outstanding Success

By Jim Riley

Monroe County's version of "Brigadoon" is now a memory. But what a memory.

The Pocono Com'n n n Chorus carried on its laurels, that is it members of the organization can light from the bottom of the huge pile of praise which has been mounting since Saturday night.

This reporter couldn't begin to write a review. But I felt it necessary to jot down something about the outstanding production which unfolded last Friday and Saturday at the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College auditorium.

From the moment the curtains parted, with Dick Walters and Bill Gorton on stage, until the same curtain came down with Gorton bidding an emotion-packed farewell to his departed friend enjoyment reigned on Normal Hill.

Naming names is out of the question today. There isn't enough space, but even more important is the fact that it would be unfair to list individuals for fear of leaving one name from the list of outstanding performances.

Last weekend's production of "Brigadoon" was professional in every sense of the word, except that none of the performers received a cent for his efforts.

The caliber of the performance was even more noticeable than most outstanding jobs, if only because the people in the audience know most of the individuals on stage.

It is not necessary to point out that the outstanding two-night showing of "Brigadoon" didn't materialize in a few short days, weeks or even months. It was darn hard work over a lengthy span of time.

Insurance men had to cut short their duties, barbers were forced to take time off from cutting hair and other workers of all types gave freely of the little free time they normally find within their grasp.

Housewives found the usual chores tougher than normally is the case. They had to rush around with the children, eat short meals and with an assist from Father do 24 hours worth of work in the normal 24.

The success of the local appearance of "Brigadoon" was brought about by a fine display of teamwork, between those people on stage, Earl Wilhoite, the director, and the many other behind-the-scenes workers who gave freely of their time.

Just how successful was "Brigadoon"? This I can't answer. But I do have a feeling that they'll be measuring future performances by the one which ended its short stand last Saturday.

District Three Photogs Pay Tribute To Carlton

TAKE IT FROM LES CARLTON. Never go to a convention. Les, former Daily Record chief photographer, now retired, keeps finding himself back in the limelight again.

And, in true Jimmy Durante fashion, he finds it embarrassing.

Les is a modest, thoroughgoing, hard-working guy as anyone who's worked with him will tell you. He's so used to taking other people's pictures that, when someone points a camera at him and pops a flash-bulb, he automatically thinks the guy just wasted the price of a bulb and a sheet of film.

It happened the first time a couple of months ago at the annual confab staged by the Scranton Press Photographers of which Les was vice president.

Carlton went to the dinner extravaganza in true form. He thought it was going to be a nice, noisy (photographers don't keep quiet when they're all together for obvious reasons) affair in which he could sit back, relax and enjoy himself.

Honored Guest

So what happens? First thing Les knows he's being pulled up on a platform and two guys (fortunately bigger than he was) were showing a scroll into his hands. He was the "honored guest." And he couldn't get out of it, even if he tried.

If it hadn't been for the fact that Les was hemmed in by a tightly-knit group of flashbulb-popping fellow photographers, he might have made a bolt for the door. Later on he told a Daily Record friend: I looked down and here were at least a dozen guys popping flash-bulbs at me.

Carlton was just about recovered from that one when some of the boys in Region Three, National Press Photographers Association, passed the word around to his former associates that they wanted to be sure Les made it to the regional convention in Asbury Park, N. J., May 4 and 5.

Les didn't cotton to the idea too much, at first. He didn't say no. But then he didn't say yes, he was going to go, either.

Finally, in the middle of last week, he definitely made up his mind he was going. So he started making plans. And on Friday he took off for the convention.

It was a good chance to see his buddies, photographers who have worked with him and seen his work for years. And he felt fine.

Saturday night, they have the big regional dinner. So Les goes in with a few close friends in the "Scranton gang" and sits down with them. They're barely starting on the hors d'oeuvres when along comes an emissary from the head table.

What are you doing down here, Carlton? asks the man in the grey flannel overalls. I'm sittin' here with my friends, says Carlton. Oh, no, you're not, says the messenger. You're sittin' at the head table with the big brass.

And the emissary returned to the head table, Carlton in tow.

Comes the high spot in the ceremony and Regional Veep Morry Berman stands up and says he'd like to say a few words about one of the region's best photogs. So he does. And the guy turns out to be Carlton.

Then the first thing you know, there's "Casey" standing up at the head table facing Berman with a sentimental glint in his eye and protesting (as usual) that he wished people would stop makin' a fuss.

Region Three gave Les a lifetime membership in the National Press Photographers Association. Berman put the lapel pin designating that membership in "Casey's" lapel. It's an honor reserved only for photographers who have given long and purposeful service to their profession.

One of the guys who attended the convention said "Casey's" head duck-ed a little when the applause broke out and the lights from the room danced a glittering reflection on the lenses of his glasses underneath the grey-silver hair and the brows.

Back home, Casey was doing his level best yesterday to "underplay" the whole thing. When he talked about it, his voice was a little gruff and rough-edged.

But underlying the voice there was the warm note of a man who was pleased that someone had thought enough of what he had done to tell him so.

It was the same note his fellow workers at The Daily Record have heard many times when Casey talked about a child.

A good press photographer has to work fast. Most of the time he takes one shot and that's it.

But the things he does do have lasting value. And this was what Region Three was saying to Les.

Stock Market Works Into Irregular Slip

NEW YORK, May 7 (AP) — The stock market worked itself into an irregular decline today with late selling contributing to the fall.

A number of strong points persisted most of the session—oil, aircrafts, some railroads, and quite a few individual issues. The aircrafts, however, turned mixed at the finish.

Steels were down most of the time and weakened at the close. Motors were lower at the finish with the exception of Studebaker-Packard up 1 at 9%. It had the benefit of Wall Street rumors of a merger with an aircraft company. After the close, International Harvester denied there was any negotiations between it and Studebaker.

Coppers

Also down were the coppers, chemicals, rubbers and the radio-television shares. Other divisions were steady to mixed.

The lower prices cast somewhat of a pall over trading enthusiasm and the total for the day was 2,550,000 shares as compared with 2,860,000 shares traded Friday when the market was a bit higher. Friday's total was the best in about five weeks.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off 90 cents at $190.40. It was up 40 cents Friday. The industrial component of the average was off $2.10, railroads were down 10 cents, but the utilities held unchanged.

The list narrowed down to 1,179 individual issues, 26 less than Friday. There were 387 gainers and 575 losers with 90 new highs and 42 new lows for the year.

Corporate bonds were mixed while U. S. governments were higher.

The American Stock Exchange was mixed on volume of 1,250,000 shares as compared with 1,240,000 shares Friday.

Tennessee Laws Requiring Segregation Ruled Invalid

NASHVILLE, Tenn., May 7 (AP) — Judge William G. Wade of Davidson County Nashville Chancery Court ruled today that all Tennessee laws requiring segregation of the races in public schools are invalid.

Wade ruled however that the state's university and colleges and other institutions of learning do not have to be thrown open immediately to Negroes. He said the state's plan of "gradual" desegregation holds good.

Opinion

The decision came in an opinion in which Wade held that Tennessee may not withhold state funds to desegregated institutions of higher learning.

It was the first such ruling by a state court in Tennessee, in accordance with the U. S. Supreme Court decision of May, 1954.

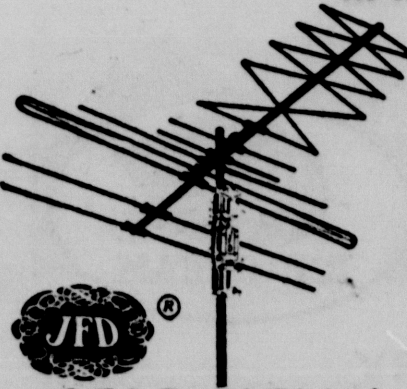

The "gradual" plan for admission of Negroes was set down by the State Board of Education and subsequently approved by Federal District Court.

Veteran Missionary In China To Speak At East Stroudsburg Presbyterian Service

MRS. JOHN D. HAYES, a veteran missionary to China, will speak at the East Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church at 7:30 tomorrow night. Her talk will be preceded by a family night supper at 6 p.m.

Mrs. Hayes is the daughter of a Scottish minister and the wife of an American Rhodes Scholar, with whom she went to China in 1917 as a missionary under the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions.

The Hayes brought up their family of five among the wars which troubled China. On four occasions, she had to leave her home and possessions because of disruptions in China.

During World War II, she and two of the children were held by the Japanese in the Philippines, while her husband was interned in China. Later, he was a prisoner of the Communists in China for nearly a year. He was released and returned to America in 1952, and has now gone out again on a new missionary assignment in the Far East.

Although Mrs. Hayes was unable because of her health to accompany her husband, she has been speaking before church groups on their experiences during 40 years of missionary work.

Club Service, Projects Are Reported

Annual reports from the various chairmen of the Stroudsburg Women's Club given at the executive board meeting at the Stroud Community House yesterday afternoon covered not only projects within the club, but also the individual service of members to the community.

Mrs. Roy Peterson and Mrs. Herbert Stoner served as co-chairmen of the Heart Drive in the county. Mrs. Claude Leister was house-to-house canvass chairman for the Community Chest Drive. Several members serve on the executive boards of various welfare and community projects, and many members served as captains and workers on the welfare drives.

The most recent club project, the Kitchens Tour for the benefit of the Home for the Aged, was very successful. To date $360 has been turned in. It was reported with the possibility of the total reaching $400. The two recent card parties also were successful, bringing in $188 for club projects.

The club voted to send Mrs. Leister and Mrs. Samuel O. Weiss, as delegates to the state convention in Harrisburg on May 23, 24 and 25, with Mrs. Roy Peterson and Mrs. William Hannas as alternate delegates. The board also voted to raise the dues next year.

In discussing plans for the next meeting, a home-member participation program on the theme "Hobbies, Crafts and Gardens," Mrs. Paul W. Lloyd and Mrs. Claude D. Cramer, co-chairmen urged that members bring articles they wish to display in any of these categories to the club rooms before 1 o'clock on Monday, May 24.

Board members attending the meeting included: Mrs. Claude Leister, Mrs. Samuel Weiss, Mrs. Roy Peterson, Mrs. Fred Rhodes, Mrs. W. Grady Moore, Mrs. Edward Hess, Mrs. Walter Weikert, Mrs. James Morgan, Mrs. Henry Helele, Mrs. Alphonse Meyers, Mrs. Claude Cramer, Mrs. Paul Lloyd, Mrs. Richard Altmeier, Mrs. Oscar Liljensstein, Mrs. William Hannas, Mrs. Frank Grimm, Mrs. C. C. Scholla, Mrs. Harold Ranker, Mrs. Charles Everitt, Mrs. Arthur Siew, Mrs. Herbert Stoner, Mrs. Edwin C. Hughes, Mrs. William Kershner, Mrs. B. I. Fandler and Mrs. Grant Nitzauer.

Their other daughters are Amy Carol, Sally Jane, Molly Emma and Jenny Eliene. They also have one son, Frederick William. Mrs. Wunder is in room 313.

Meeting Tonight

The postponed May meeting of the Presbyterian Women's Auxiliary of Delaware Water Gap will be held tonight at the home of Mrs. John Wilson Jr., with Mrs. William Glebe as co-hostess.

Mothers Club Tonight

Mothers Club of the YMCA will meet at 8 p.m. on Tuesday night in the YMCA.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Well, at least one organization is getting a little impatient for the picnic season which now looks as if it would never come. The Grace Lutheran Ladies Aid Society is having a sort of a picnic indoors tonight.

And speaking of picnics, they should be having a picnic at the personage next door when Mrs. Wunder comes home with the sixth baby, and the fifth daughter. Reminds me of the Wyckoff's except their were reversed, five boys and a girl.

Families, generally, are growing larger and the "only child" is a pretty rare thing these days. There are some who read into the statistics an unconscious desire on the part of the populace to insure as best they can the survival of man upon this exploding planet.

I'm inclined, however, to attribute it to optimism, and a feeling that this is going to be a pretty good kind of world to be alive in. That's the trouble with statistics, with trends or even with factual accounts of happenings—we read into them our own preconceived opinions.

However, this Pollyanna role can be carried too far, I'll admit, and there are times when I get pretty sick of looking on the bright side, seeing the rose and not the thorn and even sicker of hearing myself do it.

However, it takes a lot of energy to get enough steam up to blow your top.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Levergood (Georgy Rohrbach)

Miss Jacquelyn James Weds Charles C. Levergood Jr.

The Maytime wedding of Miss Jacquelyn J. James, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse James of 746 Main St., Stroudsburg, and Charles C. Levergood Jr., son of Rev. and Mrs. C. Clyde Levergood of Cherry Valley, was held on Saturday morning at 11 at St. John's Lutheran Church, Stroudsburg.

The Rev. P. N. Wohlson, D. D., pastor, was assisted in the service by the bridegroom's father, Altar boys of white pompoms, chancel bouquets of white gladioli and snapdragons and sprays of white carnations on the pews formed the background for the wedding party.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Mrs. Raymond Ejdys, of Stroudsburg was matron of honor, and Miss Nancy Long, a cousin of New Kensington, and Miss Barbara Brown, of Mexico City, Mexico, college roommates of the bride, were her bridesmaids.

Lt. Robert Berger, of Kentucky, now with the United States Army in Massachusetts served as best man. The ushers were James Morrison of Philadelphia, a brother-in-law, and Christian LaCaruba, of Sewardville, N. J. Berger and LaCaruba were classmates of the bridegroom at Duke University.

The bride wore a gown of white embroidered nylon lace with a bateau neckline with brief sleeves and matching gauntlet gloves. A sculptured hat of embroidered nylon held her tiered veil of illusion net. She carried a white prayer book covered with white roses and shawers of filices-of-the-valley.

Mrs. Ejdys wore orchid dotted tulle in a ballerina length with a nylon flower headpiece and the bridesmaids wore yellow dotted tulle with nylon flower headpiece. They carried cascade bouquets of white pompoms.

Mrs. Ralph Bender Jr., was organist, and Mrs. Andrew Weingartner III was soloist. She sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "Ich Liebe Dich, by Grieg."

The bride's mother wore a grey dress with white brocade and a redingote of nylon chiffon in grey, white hat and gloves and an orchid corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore a navy blue and white sheer over tulle, navy blue and white accessories and an orchid corsage.

Following the wedding, a reception for 150 relatives and friends was held at Biggs' Restaurant, Main St., Stroudsburg. White streamers and wedding bells formed a canopy, and the bride's table was decorated with Spring flowers in shades of white, orchid and yellow matching the bridal party wear, and side bouquets of white carnations.

Leaving for their wedding trip, the bride wore a sleeveless Spring cotton with matching accessories and a short sleeved Spring coat of yellow linen.

Mr. and Mrs. Levergood will make their home at 6748 Miami Ave., Richmond, Va., where Mr. Levergood is office manager and agent for Aetna Insurance Co.

The bride is a graduate of the Class of 1953, Stroudsburg High School and attended Bucknell University. The bridegroom, graduating from Stroudsburg High School in 1948, received his BS degree from Duke University in the class of 1953.

Fellowships Hear Worker From Japan

Del. Water Gap — The Senior and Junior Youth Fellowships combined their meetings on Sunday night and invited friends and parents when they met in the Presbyterian Sunday School room. The work is supported by both Methodist and Presbyterian funds. Mrs. Buzzard, adult leader, explained. There are 12 boys and girls in the Junior group; and 12 girls in the Senior group.

For their worship service at this meeting, Elizabeth Redzig had a hymn prelude; Elsa Drake, Kathy Meixell, Carol Snyder and Eleanor Kulp gave piano solos and duets; Barbara Hilliard and Annette Kulp, a vocal duet; Camille Buzzard, Scripture reading; Mary Etta Gray, call to worship; Paula Meixell and Judy Eike, the opening and closing prayer; Sandra Carlton received the offering and had the offertory prayer.

Mrs. Mildred Buzzard, who had prepared a set of tiny figures to show the lands reached by the Gospel, reviewed the lessons learned about mission work and famous pioneer missionaries.

Rev. Kyoji Buma, a fraternal worker from Japan serving in the Youth Office of the Presbyterian Foreign Mission Board, spoke briefly. Mr. Buma had a whimsical sense of humor that kept his young and older listeners in laughter as he explained the meaning of "Ecumenical Church" and told how mission workers no longer go only from the western lands to the east; but that workers from every country visit and help in other countries even as he has come to us from Japan.

Handwork time was spent in completing jewel tenders and wooden note holders, all ready for point and shellac. Mothers of the Fellowship folk served fruit punch and homemade cake.

Rev. Kyoji Buma had been the speaker at the morning church service where he dwelt on the worldwide fellowship of Christians. The Junior church time, with motion picture Bible themes, was resumed; and Mr. H. J. LaBar had charge of it.

Music Club Concert For Music Week

Opening National Music Week in the county, the Music Study Club of the Stroudsburgs presented Leonard Potter, baritone, in a Community Music Service on Sunday night at the East Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church.

In addition to the solos by Potter, there were solo numbers by members of the Music Study Club and special numbers by the club ensemble under the direction of Miss Alice Bellairs.

Potter's numbers included "Prayer" by H. Wolf; "Lord God of Abraham," and "It Is Enough," both from the "Elijah"; "Christ Went Up into the Hills" by Richard Hageman; "God Is My Shepherd," and "I Will Sing New Songs of Gladness," both by Dvorak; "Let Us Break Bread Together," William Lawrence; "Sometimes I Feel Like a Motherless Child," H. T. Burleigh; and "Hide On, King Jesus," arr. Hall Johnson.

Mrs. Beulah McConnell sang the Federation Collect and she and Mrs. H. W. Bauman were soloists during the offertory, "Seraphic Song," Rubinstein. The Club Ensemble sang "Lamb of God," Bizet-Bizet; and "Lo My Shepherd is Divine," Haydn.

Eleanor Bender was organist, and Marie Rutt and Lucy F. Quig, accompanists. Rev. Frank Wingerter, Rev. Harold C. Eaton and Rev. Howard Slider took part in the service and cooperating churches included Stroudsburg Methodist, Zion Reformed, Presbyterian and St. John's Lutheran and the East Stroudsburg Methodist, Presbyterian and Grace Lutheran.

Ushers were Mrs. I. W. Foltz, Mrs. Granville Flagler, Mrs. David Miller and Mrs. Harry Heller.

Miss Kemmerer Is Honored By Co-Workers

A surprise bridal shower was held in the CLU Social Hall on April 27 in honor of Miss Martha Jean Kemmerer by her co-workers of the day side industry girls at Hughes Printing Co.

Her gifts were sheltered under a pink and white umbrella with streamers. The centerpiece was a cake in the form of two wedding bells, bearing the names of the bride-to-be and her fiancé, William Lotz.

Games were played with prizes for the winners and refreshments were served. Those present were Francis Houser, Margaret Houck, Janet Hahn, Gladys Osborne, Carolyn Halterman, Mabel Burch, Sadie Williams, Charlotte Miller, Iva Heller, Dorothy Gordon, Elsie Rogers, Florence Sipitroth, Madeleine Laidlaw, Flora Felker, Mildred Adams, Laura Hallett, Genevieve Shields, Shirley Ann Gower, Maria Ann Sipitroth, Mary Ellen Lotz, Mrs. Frank Kemmerer, Arlene Gower, Ruth Sipitroth, Marie Strunk, Leah Keller, Lorraine Woodling, Ethel Rinehart, and the hostesses, Helen Diamond, Helen Besecker, Merle Smith, Ina Nasse, Lila Mondelle.

THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

It would definitely be unfinished business if I were to write another column without first congratulating all of the wonderfully gifted people who made the production of "Brigadoon" such a treasured memory. Pages could well be written. I am sure, about all the fun and crises behind the scenes. But whatever the headaches may have been in advance, the show itself was one of the finest we've ever seen in our county... a very showy theater in the caps of Dr. Earl Willhoite and all others concerned.

I'm rather ashamed of myself on two counts, and can think only that advancing years and failing eyesight must be the explanation. Believe it or not, I didn't recognize Howard Atwell at all... and when the curtains parted, I thought "Pete Wyckoff was his brother, Bill."

The entire cast was excellent, in my opinion, but I was particularly interested in Jan Winter's performance. Some weeks before the show, she had told me of her troubles in learning to dance. Seems she'd never done much of it before and was worried as to the outcome. Later, on our Wyckoff Shopper broadcast, Karen Roth assured us Jan was going to do a terrific job. "She's worked with me like a dog, morning, noon and night," Karen said. "And mark my words, she's going to be GOOD." She was too... even brilliant, when one considers the short time in which she mastered her all-dancing role.

That's just one of many little known, behind-the-scenes incidents that made "Brigadoon" particularly interesting to me. Everyone who participated can be proud, and I for one am happy to have hands blistered from applauding. Only one question is uppermost in my mind—where does our Community Chorus go from here? When you're on top of the mountain with your head in the stars, where else is UP?

Still in the Scottish mood, I'd like to bring up the name of Macintosh, manufacturer of the new dietetic strawberry spread being sold in our candy department. For those suffering from diabetes or on a low calorie diet, this wonderful spread without sugar is a wonderful solution to the yearning for sweets. The price is 50c.

And now, let's throw off the Scotch hood and think about SPENDING. If you shopped Wyckoff's yesterday, you saw the sales-people wearing pink paper carnations as a reminder that next Sunday, May 13th, is MOTHER'S DAY. There is no department at Wyckoff's that doesn't have Mom in mind at the moment... so come in to see our suggestions for making hers the loveliest Mother's Day she's ever enjoyed.

Great things ahead in the stores of the Stroudsburgs for Toluhanna Days, this Friday and Saturday! It will be our very great pleasure to have officials from the Toluhanna depot on our Wyckoff Shopper broadcast of this Thursday morning... so do be listening to WVPO at 9:45.

East Stroudsburg Teacher Narrowly Misses Shooting In Maryland School

AN EAST Stroudsburg man who teaches in Seat Pleasant, Md., barely escaped involvement in a shooting episode that cost the life of one teacher and the wounding of two others last Friday.

Harold I. Moses, son of Mrs. Catherine Moses, of 125 Orchard St., East Stroudsburg, is a remedial reading specialist at the Maryland Park School, where the shooting occurred.

A 15-year-old boy who was reprimanded for failing to turn in a written assignment is accused of killing Frazer Cameron, 32, a bachelor teacher, and of wounding Francis Daniel Wagner, 25, in the stomach and Robert Hicks, 31, in the hand.

The boy was identified as Billy Ray Prevatte, who had been expelled from a Raleigh, N.C., school two months ago for threatening a teacher's life. Police said the boy, who transferred to Seat Pleasant to live with his brother, was gunning for the principal, John Hrezo, when he fired on the three teachers.

The story, as told to police, was this:

Young Prevatte, an eighth grader, was sent to the principal's office by William Cookson, an athletic coach, to explain his failure to turn in a written assignment in physical education.

The boy went to Hrezo's office and was told to wait. After a while he left, slamming the door behind him. Returning in an automobile, he crashed the car into a fence outside the school and fired several volleys at workmen who had seen the crash and had come running in the belief he might need aid.

Apparently uninjured, he hurried into the school and went to the second floor carrying a bolt action .22 automatic rifle.

Cameron was in his class teaching. The boy pointed the gun into the open doorway and fired. The first bullet grazed the head of Cameron, who was stooped down. The teacher stood up to see who was doing the shooting and was struck in the heart and killed by a second shot.

Prevatte then ran down stairs yelling, "Where's Mr. Hrezo? I'm going to kill him."

Wagner, the school athletic coach, overheard him and rushed into the office, demanding the rifle. The boy turned around and fired another shot, this one hitting Wagner in the stomach as the teacher stood between a counter and the door.

At this point Moses, the East Stroudsburg man, almost became the third victim. He was in a small alcove hunting books for a student when he heard the shot that struck Wagner. Moses stuck his head around the corner and would have been an easy target for the young Prevatte.

About that time, however, Hicks ran up and jumped on the boy, who fired again and shot him in the hand. Prevatte ran outside and was captured and disarmed by two laborers on a school annex construction job.

Moses has taught in the Maryland Park School the last two years. He was principal of the Columbia Park School for seven years prior to his transfer to his present assignment.

A graduate of East Stroudsburg High School and East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, he lives here with his mother and sister, Madeline, while school is not in session.

Official Report Terms Company G 'Excellent'

OFFICIAL INSPECTOR GENERAL'S report received here yesterday termed Company G, 100th Infantry an "excellent" company.

The report specifically praises the company for its "exceptional" training methods and the results of that training.

The company had another good reason to feel elated last night. During qualification firing at Leach Range near Scranton, the company qualified 71 men.

Out of that total 25 made the "expert" category; 36 were "sharpshooters" and 10 were marksmen, according to First Sgt. Vincent Marek. Marek said two men tied for top honors in the shoot.

Names: They were Pfc. James M. Bishop, Tannersville and Pfc. Allen C. Miller, Bangor, RD 3. Both men scored a 190 out of a possible 210 points.

Company G's official inspection report was received from Second Army Headquarters at Fort George Meade, Md., from the office of the Inspector General. This was the company's first annual IG inspection under its new expanded and strengthened program.

M/Sgt. Robert E. Schoonover is in charge of training program for the company. It was his work which earned the special credits from the inspecting officer. The inspection was held April 11.

Company G will parade in an Armed Forces Day celebration on May 19 in Scranton. It is the largest strength — in the 28th Division.

New Jersey Milk Dealers Endorse Plea

TRENTON, N. J., May 7 (AP)—New Jersey milk dealer groups today endorsed the plea of dairymen for a increase of two cents a quart in the farm price of milk but asked that it be deferred until later in the year.

Dealers and dairymen organizations appeared at a public hearing called by Floyd R. Hoffman, director of the state Office of Milk Industry, to consider an increase in the minimum farm price of milk.

The minimum price has been 10.9 cents a quart since April 1. Thomas L. Lawrence, general manager of the United Milk Producers of New Jersey, asked that the minimum price be increased to 11.8 cents a quart June 1 and to 13 cents June 16.

Recommendation: Sid C. Rowe, speaking for the Milk Dealers Assn. of Northern New Jersey, recommended that the minimum farm price be increased a cent a quart July 1 and another cent Aug. 1.

Edwin B. Forsythe, representing the South Jersey Milk Dealers' Assn., supported Rowe's recommendation.

Hoffman reserved decision on the request. Lawrence said the minimum farm price of milk should be boosted because dairymen have not shared in the nation's prosperity.

He said the farm price of milk has gone up three per cent since 1949 but farm labor wages have increased 20 per cent.

Milk production costs have gone up 12 per cent, Lawrence added. The U.M.P. general manager said 600 New Jersey dairy farmers have gone out of business in the past five years.

Lawrence said "financial prosperity for business and high wages for labor are proper aims of government, but they should not be accomplished at the expense and to the detriment of dairymen."

Consumer income is at peak levels, he said, and consumers were never in a better position to pay "a fair price for milk."

Rowe said any price increase should be deferred because "milk supplies will be at an extremely high level throughout the month of June."

State Police Use Test With 'Drunkometer' First Time

FIRST USE OF THE drunkometer by Bethlehem State Police was used on an Easton motorist whose car allegedly crashed into that of a Minisink Hills driver Saturday night.

Walter C. Gessler, 61, of Minisink Hills, and a passenger in his car, Mrs. Jane Keating, 66, also of Minisink Hills, were treated for various injuries at Easton Hospital. The other motorist, Harold Frey, 50, of Easton RD 1, also suffered minor injuries. All were discharged after treatment.

State Police said Gessler was traveling north on Route 611 at Sandt's Ferry when Frey, headed south, went into the northbound lane and the two cars crashed.

Frey underwent a drunkometer test and was later examined by Dr. Thomas H. Weaver, Allentown, who pronounced him under the influence of liquor.

Frey was taken before a justice of the peace and released in $500 bail for further action on the charge.

State Police said the drunkometer test will be used as evidence. The physician's examination was made, troopers said, in case the court would not accept the results of the drunkometer test.

Speaking of saving daylight...

FOR THE PATIO

You can have a night-full of light in your yard and garden at the flick of a switch. In fact, the sun never need "set" on your enjoyment of outdoor living this summer.

Badminton, croquet and other games can continue with the strategic location of floodlights. The patio can be lighted in a variety of ways for informal entertaining and dancing or plain relaxing. Flower beds or walkways can be highlighted with dramatic spot- or flood-lighting that brings out all the eye-catching color and beauty. Or... well, there's almost no end to the ways in which you can use inexpensive lighting to lengthen your summer days.

Make the most of outdoor living. See your electrical contractor or electrician today about outdoor lighting suited to your yard and garden.

EAST STROUDSBURG hit the links tonight over the weekend, when golfing resident Elmer Deitrick nosed out Bob Cramer and R. B. Foote in an 18-hole match at the Indian Mountain Golf Course, Kresgeville.

Deitrick clinched honors by sinking a 40-foot putt on the last hole.

According to advance press releases from State University, Andy Mocoyni and Maurice Schleicher, former Lehigh Valley schoolboy grid sensations of two years ago, are tabbed for plenty of duty for Rip Eagle's Penn State eleven this fall.

Mocoyni, the Bethlehem High speedster, and Schleicher, Slatington High's blockbuster, were two of the bright spots on the Nittany Lions' team last year.

Both Mocoyni and Schleicher were interviewed by more than two score college coaches before casting their lot with Penn State.

John Wernet, secretary of the Class A Pocono Mountain League, announced yesterday that an important meeting of the league's moguls and team officials will be held at the Bartonsville Hotel, Wednesday, May 16.

The session, slated to get under way at 8 p. m., is to plan activities for the benefit of the league.

Incidentally Jim Werkheiser, of the Tannersville entry, and Dick Hickman, of Bushkill, report that attendance thus far this year at games far surpasses the turnouts of the last three seasons.

Benny Jones, Stroudsburg's gift to Lehigh Valley, gambled and won in track last week when he shifted two of his aces to different events in a meet with Whitehall.

Jones, former East Stroudsburg STC graduate who also did duty as the Stroudsburg Poconos' baseball trainer, switched Merle Wolfe from the 220 to the half mile and changed to high jumper Tom Shupp to the pole vault.

Shupp tied teammate Carl Everett in the vault and picked up a double win in the shot put and broad jump to lead Jones' Lehighites to a upset win over the heavily-favored Zephyrs.

Palmerston High did alright by themselves when the final financial breakdown for participation in the Pennsylvania Inter-scholastic Athletic Association's Basketball Tournament was released.

Blue Bomber officials picked up $4,032.15 as their share of the recent court classic. Palmerston gained the finals of the state play before bowing to Farrell High in the championship tilt at the Penn Palestra, Philadelphia.

Reports from Palmerston say the recent resignation of Win Evans as basketball coach of the Blue Bombers was to spur school board recommendation for higher pay.

It has been said that Evans will not leave Palmerston until his star Bob Miky goes on to a school of higher education.

It seems to us though, that there is a better way of securing a pay hike. Could be that the board will act like the townspeople who heard the cry, "the wolf is here", too often and bypass Evans' move.

Cavaliers To Host Pen Argyl Today

EAST STROUDSBURG High's baseball team, which is finding it harder and harder to get in a diamond game, will try again today when Jack Kist's underlings take on Pen Argyl High at Memorial Stadium.

The contest, a regular Lehigh-Northampton League, duel, will get underway at 4 p. m.

Yesterday the Cavaliers were to have played Nazareth on the Blue Eagles field but rains and wet grounds forced the postponement of the tilt. Originally the game was slated for last Friday but heavy showers moved it up to yesterday.

Eagles Tomorrow
East Stroudsburg officials said last night that the game will be played (weather permitting) at Nazareth tomorrow.

However, Kist said that if today's contest with the Green Wave is washed out then they will play Pen Argyl here tomorrow and Nazareth away Thursday.

Hickman To Hurt
Current plans call for Curt Hickman to hurl today's game against Pen Argyl and Frank Lupin pitching against the Blue Eagles tomorrow.

Today's lineup will have Harry Miller, catching; Danny Marvin will be on first base; Bob Kassner, second; Dick Gray, shortstop; Gene Plaza, third; Helmut Gartner, left; Tom Michaels, center; and Lupin right.

Bangor High At Parkland In L-N Today

BANGOR — Don Smith will get the pitching nod today when Bangor High faces Parkland High in a Lehigh-Northampton League skirmish on the Trojans field, starting at 4 p. m.

The Slaters are currently in second place, one half game from league-leading Parkland. Bangor has a 2-1 record, while the Trojans sport a 2-0 log.

Handling Smith's twirling today will be Jimmy Freeman. The remainder of the Bangor lineup will be the same as the one that upset Whitehall last week.

At first base will be Don Keat. Bob Stansberry will take care of second; Glen Heard will be at short; and J. L. Williams Jr. at third.

Outfield Starters
In the outfield will be Frank and Bob Butz and Jack Stenlake. Bangor's coaching reins again will be handled by Dave Pritchard in the absence of the ailing J. L. Williams Sr.

Arroyo To Bucs For Surkont

ST. LOUIS, May 7 (P) — The St. Louis Cardinals today traded left-hander Luis Arroyo to the Pittsburgh Pirates for Max Surkont, 33-year-old right-handed relief pitcher.

Arroyo, a 28-year-old Puerto Rican, was recalled from Omaha of the American Assn. for today's trade, announced as a straight player deal.

The trade was swung by General Managers Frank Lane of the Cardinals and Joe L. Brown of Pittsburgh.

Summer Airings For Garden Bouts

NEW YORK, May 7 (P) — The weekly Friday night fights at Madison Square Garden will be broadcast and telecast through the summer.

This was announced today by President James D. Norris of the International Boxing Club and the radio-TV sponsor Gillette Safety Razor Co.

Although neither the National Boxing Assn. nor the New York State Athletic Commission has made up its mind on how a new champion will be determined, the International Boxing Club hopes to come up with a clear cut winner from its tournament.

Johnny Summerlin of Detroit and Bob Satterfield of Chicago already are signed for a May 23 match at Detroit and a Madison Square Garden battle between Hurricane Jackson and Floyd Patterson is a possibility for mid-June.

IBC Was Ready
The Baker-Holman fight in the Miami Beach Auditorium was arranged for 12 rounds before Marciano quit because the IBC "wanted to be ready."

Baker, 29, was a 9-5 favorite to beat Holman who has knocked out Satterfield and beaten Joey Rowan in two starts this year. Baker's only 1956 fight was a 10-round defeat by Jackson on a disputed decision.

The latest ring ratings show Baker No. 3 and Holman No. 4 behind Archie Moore and Jackson.

Polk To Face Chestnuthill Away Today

POLK TOWNSHIP can take over the lead in the Monroe County High School League if they get by Chestnuthill High in the top contest in the circuit today.

Polk, currently tied with Pocono Township for the loop leadership with 2-0 won and loss logs each, needs the win at Chestnuthill to gain a temporary lead over the idle Tannersville nine.

Play May 18
Pocono Township was scheduled to play Tobyhanna Township but the latter's school officials postponed the game because of a previously planned student trip. The tilt will be played, however, Friday, May 18 at Pocono Lake.

Coolbaugh Home
In the only other contest today, Barrett will meet Coolbaugh at Tobyhanna.

Nebel's Downs Tobyhanna In Softball Tilt

A NINE-RUN third inning sparked Nebel's Market to a 13-7 victory over Tobyhanna Depot in a Monroe County Softball League game yesterday at the Stroudsburg playground field.

Nebel's was trailing 4-3 at the time of the outburst.

John Heckman hurled the triumph for the Marketmen, while Sampson was charged with the loss.

Bavasi Denies Loes On Block
BROOKLYN, May 7 (P) — Vice President E. J. (Bazzy) Bavasi of the Brooklyn Dodgers categorically denied today that Billy Loes, ailing Dodger right-hander, had been offered to the Baltimore Orioles or any other club either in a trade or for outright sale.

Bavasi's statement was in reply to a report that the Dodgers had secured waivers on the pitcher and will send him to the Orioles shortly.

"There is no thought at this time of dealing Loes," Bavasi said. "Right now Loes is a question mark because of his shoulder condition. We couldn't deal him to any club if his arm was not right and we wouldn't deal him if his arm was right."

Volunteers Sought For Park Cleanup
TANNERSVILLE — A call for volunteers to help clean up the Tannersville Little League park was issued by loop officials last night.

The cleanup project is slated for today at 6 p. m.

Individuals are urged to bring lawn mowers, rakes, shovels and other equipment needed to help in the project.

Scranton Back Inked By Eagles
PHILADELPHIA, May 7 (P) — Jim Lavery, hard-running utility man of Scranton back, today signed a 1956 contract with the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League. Lavery averaged 7.2 yards per carry in three years at Scranton. He graduated in 1954 and tried out for the Chicago Bears last year but was released.

Subscribe to The Daily Record.

U. S. Losers
Al Balding and Gordon Brydson of Canada were too much for Mike Souchak and Cary Middleoff of the United States in the third match of the day and won the full 3 points. They beat Souchak and Middleoff 5 and 4.

Single matches are scheduled tomorrow. In the singles, Bolt will meet Balding, Middleoff will play Brydson, Jack Fieck of the United States playing Jack Kay of Canada, Litterle clashing with Leonard. Souchak meeting Mawhinney. Kroll taking on Tucker, and Ford playing Kerr.

The Montreal Canadiens, winners of the Stanley Cup, placed four players on the National Hockey League all-star team.

Baker's Record
Baker's record for 51 pro fights since 1949 is 44-6-1 with 19 knockouts. He was stopped three times. Holman, 28, has had 42 fights with a 30-11-1 record since 1947. He stopped 18 and was knocked out four times.

Yama Bahama, a hot-shot mid-dleweight prospect from Bimini tops the Friday show at Syracuse, N. Y., against Hardy (Bazooka). Smallwood of Brooklyn. Neither fighter is ranked. Bahama has a 21-fight winning streak going with no defeats since November, 1954.

Vince Martinez, highly rated Paterson, N. J., welter, tunes up for his important June 16 match at Boston with ex-champ Tony DeMarco by taking on Dick Goldstein

Mantle Leads 3 Departments In AL; Bailey Paces NL

NEW YORK, May 7 (P) — It may be a little too early to predict that Mickey Mantle will win the triple crown in the American League. But at the rate he's going, who is going to bet him?

The slugging switch hitter of the pace-setting New York Yankees is leading in batting with a .424 mark, in home runs with nine and in runs batted in with 23.

Mickey collected 11 hits in 25 at bats in last week's games. Five of the safeties were homers.

His chief competition in the home run and RBI departments comes from teammate Yogi Berra, who has slammed eight homers and driven in 22 tallies.

Boyd At 400
In the batting, Bob Boyd of Baltimore is not too far behind with a .400 average. He's followed by Vic Wertz of Cleveland with .377, Jim Lemon of Washington, a pleasant surprise for the Senators, with .373, Charley Maxwell of Detroit with .364 and Karl Olson of Washington with .362.

Catcher Ed Bailey, off to a fine start for Cincinnati, paces the National League batting race with .429. He's had 17 hits in 37 trips.

Kenny Boyer of St. Louis, who's been over .400 since the season's first week, is runner-up with .452. Then come Rip Repulski of the Cards with .429, Dale Long of Pittsburgh .391 and Wally Moon of St. Louis with .387. The leaders are based on at least 35 at bats and the records include Sunday's games.

Wally Post of Cincinnati heads the senior circuit in homers with nine. Pittsburgh's Frank Thomas is only one behind.

Stan Musial of the Cards, the only major leaguer to have pounded out two grand slam homers, is the runs batted in leader with 17. Boyer is second with 16.

Weird 6th Gives Cards 6-3 Win
ST. LOUIS, May 7 (P) — A weird five-run sixth inning in which the St. Louis Cardinals bunched three singles, two of them bunts, three walks, a hit batsman and a wild pitch, tonight gave the Redbirds a 6-3 victory over the New York Giants.

Baltimore Gains Nod Over Tigers
BALTIMORE, May 7 (P) — George Zuverink, the Orioles' bullpen ace, won a game on two pitches when Hal Smith singled with the bases loaded in the bottom of the ninth to propel Baltimore to a 4-3 victory over the Detroit Tigers tonight.

Boston's Brewer Stymies Indians For Third Triumph

BOSTON, May 7 (P) — Boston's Tom Brewer baffled Cleveland on four hits while posting his third victory of the season today as the Red Sox defeated the Indians, 5-1.

The 24-year-old righthander from Cheraw, S. C., gave up only two hits over the first eight innings but had to pitch his way out of trouble in the ninth when the Indians scored their lone run.

Brewer struck out nine and walked only three, two of them in the ninth inning. He now has allowed only 14 hits and three earned runs in 34 innings. His lone loss was against the New York Yankees.

Retires First 16
Brewer retired the first 16 batters in order, seven on strikeouts, before Jim Hegan lined a single just over shortstop Don Buddin's glove.

Mixing up his fast ball with an assortment of curves, Brewer coasted along until the ninth. Vic Wertz grounded a single just to the right of second base in the seventh for the only other hit off the Boston hurler until the final inning.

The Red Sox, with rightfielder Jackie Jensen and third baseman Frank Malzone bunched for weak hitting, pounded Cleveland starter Mike Garcia for 11 hits and four runs in the first five innings while Brewer was rolling along.

Norm Zauchin wound up the scoring in the seventh when he poked his second home run of the year into the left field screen.

Settles Stage
A walk to Bobby Thomson and a single by Billy Bruton set the stage for Crandall's run-producing single in the second inning off Carl Erskine, who went down to his second defeat against one victory.

Then in the fourth, Bruton tripled and scored on Crandall's sacrifice fly.

Randy Jackson, batting for Ed Roebuck who replaced Erskine in the fourth, singled home Sandy Amoros with the lone Brooklyn tally in the eighth. Roebuck and Clem Labine, who finished for the Dodgers, allowed only one hit each.

Named To Select College Nines
EASTON — The selection committee for the District 2, NCAA, baseball playoffs has been announced by William H. Anderson, director of athletics at Lafayette College, who is chairman of the committee.

Assisting Anderson in selecting three teams to participate in the playoffs will be Walter McLaughlin, of St. John's College, Brooklyn; Everett Barnes, of Colgate University, and Joe Bedenk, of Pennsylvania State University.

The committee will meet here this month to select the three teams. The fourth team in the playoffs will be the Middle Atlantic Conference champion, to be chosen by a committee from that conference.

Set For Allentown
Anderson announced that for the third straight year the playoffs will be held in the park of the Allentown team of the Eastern League. The playoff dates are June 1 and 2. The winner will represent the district in the College World Series in Omaha, Nebraska.

Clyde Littlefield has coached the University of Texas track team since 1921.

Stroudsburg Meets Catty Away Today

STROUDSBURG High's diamond edition will go after its third straight Lehigh Valley League victory today when the Mountaineers take on Catasauqua High at Catty.

Winners over Leighton and Emmaus in its last two LV starts, the Mountaineers of Jerry Stulgaitis will rely on senior right-hander Don Setzer to help bring home its third circuit triumph.

Probable Lineup
Catching Setzer's slants today will be Don Stopp. Rounding out the rest of the Stroudsburg lineup will be Fran Hasara at first base; Ron (Super) Phillips, second base; Ron Stopp, shortstop; Barry Tretheway, third; Ron Edjys, left; Doug Nichols, center; and John Hallock, right.

Currently Stroudsburg is sporting an over-all season record of four wins and three losses. Their mark in the Lehigh Valley is 2-2.

Playing In Sports
The Mountaineers have been playing in sports this season, winning the first two (Pocono Township, Pen Argyl), dropping the next three (Chestnuthill, Slatington, Whitehall) and picking up again with wins over Leighton and Emmaus.

Cotton Upsets Giardello In St. Nick's Go
NEW YORK, May 7 (P) — Charley (King) Cotton, a 3 1/2-1 underdog, came from behind tonight to win a unanimous 10-round decision over Joey Giardello of Philadelphia in a telecast bout at St. Nicholas Arena. The upset defeat snapped Giardello's two-year, nine-fight victory streak. Giardello weighed 159 1/2, Cotton 154 1/2.

The two judges, Harold Barnes and Joe Eppy, each voted for the unheralded Toledo Ohio middleweight, 5-4-1. Referee Mark Conn had the fight even in rounds 5-5 but had Cotton ahead on points, 8-6. The AP card had Cotton out in front 6-4.

Joey Warned
Conn warned Giardello, once a high-ranking middleweight contender, three times for low blows, and finally penalized him the ninth round. That was one of Cotton's best rounds anyway.

350 Monroe County Schoolboys In Training For Annual Junior-Senior High Field Day

ALL OVER Monroe County hundreds of boys in the junior and senior high school grades are working daily under the direction of coaches and student teachers, to improve their performance in the running, jumping, and throwing events scheduled for May 16 at the ESSTC Athletic Field. Several records are expected to fall, according to times and distances observed at the eleven schools.

Sponsors Of Meet

The sponsors of the meet, the Health Education Student Teachers and Supervisor Perry Bean, point out that this meet helps meet the athletic needs of not only the top athletes, but of the general run of performer.

Events are conducted in three classes, the Seniors, Intermediates and Juniors. Classes are determined by an age-height-weight index. Thus, boys of every grade and size may compete with a good chance of success. The entry sheet encourages wide participation, in the case of the County schools, approximately two-thirds of the total boys enrolled are entered in one or more events. Three events, the Shuttle Relay, Twelve-Man Relay, and Tag-Of-War, are planned especially for the less fleet and agile, since the top runners are barred. Thus, a great number of boys have an opportunity that is not provided by the regular athletic program, a chance to compete, and the challenge of winning or losing as a result of their own individual efforts.

For The Individual

Field Day is organized for individual rather than interschool competition. No school scores are kept, but rather, a ribbon is awarded each winner of first, second, and third place. The meet is a recently organized event, and records are improving each year. Last year, thirteen new marks were bettered, with the record holders coming from all corners of the county, although the larger number are credited to the borough schools, as would be expected because of their larger enrollment. The records which the 1956 athletes will shoot at are as follows:

SENIOR DIVISION

100 Yard Dash—Karl Winkert, Stroudsburg, 1954—10.9 seconds.

200 Yard Dash—LARRY BURG, LeRoy, 1954—24.7 seconds.

Synod To Meet At Zion Church

EAST Pennsylvania Synod of the Evangelical and Reformed Church will meet in a 17th annual session in Zion Evangelical and Reformed Church, Stroudsburg today and tomorrow.

President of the Synod, The Rev. Frank W. Teske, D. D. of Easton, will be in charge of the business of the session.

Members of the Synodical Council are Rev. William Longsdorf, vice president; Rev. Harold Ash, secretary; Rev. L. V. Hettrick, D. D., treasurer and Dr. J. N. Roeder, Lay Representative.

The meeting today will open with registration at 9 a.m. follows by Holy Communion with the Minister of Zion Church, Rev. Frank H. Blatt in charge, assisted by the Rev. Stewart Bortner and the Rev. Vernon H. Baum.

Highlight

One of the high-lights of the opening meeting will be the address of the representative of the General Council of the denomination, Rev. Roy W. Limbert D. D. The remainder of the day will be devoted to the preparation and presentation of Committee reports.

Tonight's meeting will be presided over by the vice president of the Synod, Rev. Longsdorf and will consist of a report of the committee on the church and the ministry and the Licensure of the Young Men from the Synod who are entering the ministry at this time. Rev. Blatt minister of the local church is chairman of the committee and will be in charge of this part of the program, assisted by other members of the committee followed by an address by Dr. Limbert.

Tomorrow will be devoted to the general business of Synod continuing thru the morning and culminating with a devotional service at five p.m.

Meals will be served for the visiting delegates by the members of the women's guild and

Seventh-Day Adventists Show Growth

SEVENTH-DAY Adventist church work in all lines has made "outstanding growth in the eastern Pennsylvania area the past two years," according to reports given delegates Sunday at the 19th biennial constituency meeting of the East Pennsylvania Conference of Adventists at the Blue Mountain Academy, near Hamburg, Pa.

Every Adventist church in eastern Pennsylvania was represented at the session attended by more than 400 delegates and visitors. Vincent A. Fenn, secretary-treasurer of the conference, told delegates that members of his organization each gave on an average of $243.61 for the work of the church in 1955. This includes $131.54 in tithes alone and $112.07 for missions and local church expenses. This compares favorably, he said, to the national average for Adventist state conferences of $194.12, which is the third highest per capita of all Protestant denominations in the United States.

"This contrasts," he said, "to the national average for all church members—$48.95, according to official figures by the National Council of Churches."

Faithful

"Our members are not wealthy," Fenn said, "but they are faithful in their obligations to their God and their church. They believe in the Biblical admonition to tithe (a tenth) their income for the support of the church. In addition they loyally support the church's world-wide missions program, local church projects and elementary and secondary schools operated by the church."

T. Edgar Unruh, President, told delegates of the new Blue Mountain Academy, co-educational secondary school operated by the East Pennsylvania Conference. The school is closing their first full year of operation after getting started last fall while plaster was still being poured and windows were not even in classrooms.

The ground was broken for the new school just two years ago at the church's biennial session. Since that time two dormitories, an administrative annex, and a cafeteria building have been constructed. Plans are going ahead for expanding the physical properties of the school until a capacity of 360 students is achieved.

Devotion

"The new school represents real devotion and sacrifice for members of Adventist churches in eastern Pennsylvania," Unruh said. The school is another unit in the world-wide educational system of the church which starts with pre-kindergarten children and ends the several Sunday School classes of Zion Church.

This is the first meeting of the Synod in Stroudsburg since its organization 17 years ago.
